STROKE SUPPORT ASSOCIATION

presents:

YOUR LOCAL LIBRARY:
Volunteer Opportunities plus
Programs and Services to Enrich Your Life

Tuesday, June 11, 2019 10:00-10:30 AM

FREE to Attend

followed by our regular support groups

Antonia Herrera, General Librarian at the Long Beach Public Library, will speak about volunteer opportunities at the library, in areas such as the following:

- Adult literacy
- Veterans' Resources
- Friends of the Library Bookstore
- Adaptive and Computer Technology

Also, find out about the library's many services and programs that stroke survivors and their families might find useful and enjoyable, such as various software that will help with reading, writing, and typing. Also offered: gardening programs, cultural conversations, genealogy research programs, book clubs, writing workshops, and more!

Antonia Herrera received her Masters in Library Science in 1983 and has been a librarian for 36 years, first with Los Angeles Public Library and then for the Long Beach Public Library starting in 1991.

As a General Librarian, Antonia's duties and responsibilities include overseeing the Information Center for People with Disabilities at the Main Library as well as Volunteer Services.
